To-day the elections in Ohio will take place. In our last issue we furnished our readers with two forecasts of the result-one made by a Republican in Cincinnati, and the other by a Democrat in Columbus. That these gentlemen endeavored to be candid and fair is clear from their telegrams. We need not, at this distance from the scene of battle, endeavor to supplement their estimates by any guesses of our own. We may remind the reader, however, that inasmuch as BLAINE carried Ohio last year by more than thirty thousand majority, the Democrats can hardly be presumed to have an equal chance with the Republicans of carrying it this year. It is true HOADLY was elected two years ago, but it is also true that at that time the Democrats had the most of the German vote, very strong in Cincinnati, and almost the entire influence of the beer and whiskey interests. This year the Republicans have cut loose from the Prohibitionists. Every Republican candidate for the Legislature in Hamilton county (thirteen in all) has come out in opposition to Prohibition. MURAT HALSTEAD has deneunced Dr. LEONARD, the Prohibition candidate, in the most unjustiflable language. The Prohibitionists are charged with being assistant Democrats, and their candidates with being in the pay of the Democratic party. However, if there are many Prohibitionists in Cincinnnati, and they should in their indignation against the Republicans vote the Democratic ticket, the sincerity. The probabilities on the one Sunday's Dispatch. The Prohibition-ists and the liquor-men, the southern trade and the bloody shirt, and various other disturbing elements come to Ohio of the State elections.

How will the result in Ohio affect the result in Virginia? Considering that Ohio has voted for every Republican candidate for President who has run for the last twenty-five years, a Republican victory in Ohio certainly ought not to have any depressing effect upon the Democrats of Virginia or any other State. Besides, if, as many good people seem to fear, the Democrats of Virginia are in danger of being defeated because of over-confidence in their strength, it will do them good to hear bad news from Ohio in time to profit by it. The Virginia Republicans would of course attempt to make capital out of a Republican triumph in Ohio, but what they would er could make out of a Republican defeat, or how they would manage to explain away a Democratic victory in such a State, we cannot imagine. But Virginia Democrats ought to prefit by the result, even if this be a Republican victory. Considering that SHERMAN and HALSTEAD and FORA-KER have waved the bloody shirt all over Ohio, a Republican victory in that State may well be regarded by the people of Virginia as a threat and a menace Certainly, if those sectional agitators could have their way they would carry out their threat and rob the South of nearly forty of her Representatives in the lower house of Congress. And as the Ohio cry against Danville and Copiah is repeated here in Virginia, the bloody-shirt shrickers in that State could not but look upon a Republican or MAHONE triumph in this State as an invitation to them to continue their unholy work, and a forerunner of Republican victories in other southern States. Surely, then, a Republican victory in Ohio to-day will in repealing all laws giving color to cause every true Democrat in Virginia such wrong and injustice. to buckle on his armor and strike right and left from now till election-day in favor of the election of LEE, MASSEY, AYERS, and a Democratic Legislature. Men and brethren, think on these things. Think of the threats of your es in the North, as well as of the aded measures of legislation that ald be adopted here at home, and then, if you can, rest quietly upon your cars whilst you see the ship of State

Mahone at Work. on Post of yesterday says that on Sat urday Senator Hoan presented an in-teresting pilgrim to the influential men of the Republican party in the person of Congressman-elect BRADY, of Virinia. He was placed in charge of Mr. BEARD, State candidate for Treasurer, and taken to the offices of the wealthy.

The telegram adds: "He calls the Virginia situation criti cal, and intimated that more northern money and less bloody-shirt would be good for his friends down in the Old Dominion. He told men with whom he talked that the Democrats were way head in the fight at this stage, and tha nothing but generous contributions from the outside would give the Republicans a show of saving the State."

"Mr. Brady pictured the crushing effect on the Administration and the Democrats generally of a Republican victory in Virginia, and the probability of Senator Mahone's being necessary to continue the party power in the United States Senate after 1887."

How many thousands of dollars the Boston malignants have sent to MA-HONE, we cannot tell. But Boston is not the only place he will visit. He will make the same plea in other northern cities. He claims that upon Republican success in Virginia next month will depend Republican ascendency in the United States Senate, and indeed in the Union, for many years to come Doubtless he will get thousands of dollars from the malignants. We hope his colored supporters will demand at least twenty thousand of the sum.

But what are the Democrats of Vir ginia doing? How much time and mo ney are they contributing to the good cause? Are they willing to trust the close counties to the tender mercies of the men who go to Boston to get money wherewith to carry Virginia?

Awake, arise, or be forever fallen.

The Canvass. In his paper, Colonel Tom WHITE-

HEAD Says: "We have been and are pretty well informed of all the canvasses in Vir-ginia since the war, and have taken more or less part in each and all, and this is the most remarkable we have ever seen. The people are taking more interest in this canvass than in any sinc 1869, and the interest is more universal than in that, because the Democracy has more and abler men on the stum and the Republicans fewer and less able. No candidate heretofore has excited such enthusiasm among the people as has General Lee, and none excited their indignation and scorn as has Wise—not even Henry Happy Wells. Every day of the canvass increases these antagonistic feelings among the people. Every speech of General Lee increases his majority, and secures for him the respect, and often the support, of real Republicans. Every speech of John S. Wise decreases his vote, and strikes from the list of his supporters men who would have voted for him but for his speeches."

That is encouraging, coming as it does from a man who has personally Democrats might secure control of the visited as many counties as has Colo-Legislature notwithstanding the elec- nel WHITEHEAD; but it should not tion of the Republican candidate for Gov- cause any Democrat to relax his efforts. ernor. In addition to his other work MA-

One niously worded, and their influence is prediction may be safely made, and this not to be despised. But the Democrats is that the constitutional amendment should remember that thorough organichanging the Ohio elections to the day zation is worth all the campaign docuof the presidential election will be ratiments that ever were printed. When fied by the people, and that hereafter we say thorough organization we mean the result in the presidential election an organization like that recommended cannot be determined by the result in by the Democratic Convention which met in Lynchburg in 1883. If the leading Democrats in each votingprecinct will do their duty they can be of as much service to the party as car any of our most gifted erators or any member of the State Central Committee Because their field of work is circum scribed it does not follow that they may not save a county and thus save the Legislature and defeat MAHONE of reelection to the United States Senate. There is not a close county in the State that cannot be carried for the Democrats by precinct organization. The men to perfect such organization are not the speakers, but the local workers, who will personally interview the voters, organize them, and see that there is no doubt about Virginia expects every Democrat to do his duty in this crisis, and the Democrat who does his duty after the manner indicated will be no less entitled to recognition as a patriot than he who pleads the cause of good government eloquently from the hustings.

Bradstreet's says that a delegate to the Massachusetts Republican Convention last week, feeling an intense sympathy with the declarations in favor of "the right of free and untrammelled suffrage," submitted a resolution demanding that the penalties of the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution be enforced in all States North and South where the franchise is interfered with either by violence, fraud, or State Chesapeake and Ohio railway if this ment to the United States Constitution South where the franchise is interfered with either by violence, fraud, or State legislation, and calling upon the Legislatures of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and all other northern States to unite

The resolution was of course rejected. Massachusetts requires an educational qualification, Rhode Island a property one in naturalized citizens.

Messrs. LATHAM, ALEXANDER & Co., of New York, have sent us their annual for this year. It details the cotton movements and fluctuations from and Europe, all very concisely and conveniently arranged; also, a valuable article on the cotton trade, written expressly for it by THOMAS ELLISON, of Liverpool, very detailed reports of the last crop, and some interesting reading matter. Their book is not for sale.

Roll up twenty thousand majority for FITZ LEE three weeks from to-day, and thus give the northern Democrats assurance that the South will be solid as long as sectional issues are kept before the people of the country. Thus may we cause the bloody shirt to be furled, never to be spread to the breeze again. As long as sectional strife is fed by SHERMAN and FORAKER and the rest of the malignants, the South has no choice but to remain solid. Whose fault will such a condition of things be? Certainly not the fault of the lamb that drinks the muddied water, but that of the wolf which seeks a quarrel. Gladly would the people of the southern States divide upon other and more important issues-upon questions worthy of the consideration of statesmen; but they cannot so long as they are traduced and threatened with the displeasure of the northern people. We must perforce stand together as long as the enemy threatens to overwhelm us.

Elect a MAHONE Legislature and you elect JOHN S. WISE Commissioner of Sales, with yearly fees amounting to perhaps twenty thousand dollars.

If MAHONE has twenty thousand dollars to spend on the Virginia elections, he has a thousand dollars for every doubtful county.

The local school levies (county and district) are made by the county boards of supervisors, and they show conclusively beyond anything else the dispo-sition of the people in the several coun-ties in the matter of supporting the public schools. The following statement shows the amount of local school levies per capita of school population made in a number of counties last year. Counties of about equal population are being Democratic and the second Re publican :

Democratic county of Pulaski gives to its children about three times what the Republican county of Amelia gives to its children; the Democratic county of Augusta gives about four times what the Republican county of Mecklenburg gives; the Democratic county of Botetourt gives nearly twice what the Republican county of Tazewell gives, al-though Tazewell is much the richer county; the Democratic county of Fairfax (the home of General Fitz Lee) gives about four times what the Republican county of Essex gives; the Democratic county of Frederick gives over three times what the Republican county of Floyd gives, and so on. Now, who are the friends of the schools? Let these figures in dollars and cents answer. They represent what the people of these counties pay out of their own pockets by self-im-posed taxes for the support of the schools, and not what is received from State appropriations.

In the above list Pulaski is compared with Amelia, which received $5,506.06 from the State, whereas Pulaski received only $4,350.98.

The ministers generally of the two cities have con-sented to assist in this work. Another large number of workmen are to be called in the navy-yard this week, which will about employ all the idle men of trades in the two cities. There is plenty of work at the yard now, which is a grateful relief to the hundreds of workmen idle all the summer. It will be the spring of the year before all the work now on hand will be completed. This fact is especially fortunate, for the reason that the shipyards are doing little or nothing. The most of our laborers, white and black, can secure employment at this season along the docks, the cotton and trans-portation lines being at their busiest. A very heavy gale and rain-storm is prevailing to-night, and no steamers are leaving the harbor, all being tied up at their wharves until the blow sub-sides. Cotton Manufacturing-Resignation-Camp of Confederate Veterans-A Chorus of One Hundred and Twenty-five Voices-Demo-(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch, PETERSBURG, October 12, 1885.

The cotton-factory at Switt Creek in Chesterfield county, will permanently resume work on Wednesday of this week, and thus give employment to a large number of worthy people in that village who have heretofore been mainly dependent upon this factory for their living. Nearly all of the cotton-factories which were formerly run in this city and vicinity are now at wak, the tobacco-factories are all in operation and the outlook is vastly improved this winter in comparison with the last.

Hon. Joseph S. Budd, who takes hi seat this week as judge of our Hustings Court, has resigned the position of at-torney for the city, which he has filled for several years past. His succes in this office will be elected by the Common Council on the 1st of Novem-

It is in contemplation here to organ-ize a camp of Confederate veterans to act in unison with and as auxiliary to Lee Camp of Richmond. There are many old soldiers in Petersburg who sincerely sympathize with the great charity that has been established in Richnond, and to which many of our citizens contributed. As soon as the pro-per information has been received the organization will doubtless be effected.

A strong gale from the east has been prevailing here all day, increasing in strength as the day advanced. A good deal of damage has been done to trees in the twisting off of limbs, but no other injury has been sustained.

The receipts of cotton at this port last week amounted to about 700 bales, being the largest weekly receipts of the season. From this time onward, how-ever, the receipts will increase.

The large new warehouse on Syca more street, built especially for the storage of flue-cured tobacco, has been nearly completed, and will add much to the storage accommodations for tobacco in the city.

The Petersburg Musical Association, which has done so much for the cultivation of musical taste in our city and State, opens the season with a chorus of 125 voices, well trained by practice. It is hoped to increase this chorus to nearly or quite 200 voices during the to the bread there is none better.' season. All the concerts for the winter have been arranged, talent engaged, and dates fixed, and the same liberal measure of support that has heretofore characterized our people will again be extended the Association.

Late information from the various ounties of this congressional district is to the effect that the Democrats are compactly organizing their forces, and that a full vote will be polled. It is declared that in no previous campaign of recent years has there been greater harmony in the Democratic ranks, or closer union among the people in their determination to win success.

The Republicans of this city are pre paring to give Mr. John S. Wise a big reception when he speaks here on Fri-day night, and they will doubtless get up a large crowd to hear him. It is proposed also to honor him with a sera-nade at General Mahone's residence after the speaking is over. In one case that comes within the knowledge of your correspondent a handsome vase was jarred from its place on the mantel and broken into pieces. A great many people were badly frightened by the quakes, for there were two. The rum-the Chesapeake and Ohio railway has the effect of leaving Charlottesville out in the cold. The completion of the new depot at the Virginia Midland Junc-tion has determined the management to take the extraordinary steps of forcing the people of Charlottesville to the in convenience of going out of its corporate limits to take trains which run for one mile through its corporation. The announcement of this action by the lo-cal agent on Saturday was received by the people with astonishment at first which rapidly changed to indignation
